TarraBot Liability Disclaimer

Effective date: 15 November 2026

1. Parties and scope

This Liability Disclaimer applies to your use of TarraBot robots, the TarraBot Pro mobile application, related cloud services, and all modes of operation, including fully autonomous operation and remote teleoperation ("Teleop") in which you or another operator drive or command a TarraBot over a network.

2. Assumption of risk

Operating a TarraBot involves inherent risks of property damage, damage to the robot, and bodily injury. You acknowledge these risks and assume full responsibility for the safe operation of each TarraBot under your control or on your premises, whether the robot is running autonomously or under Teleop.

3. Teleop

During Teleop, a human operator directs robot motion and related actions using video and controls provided by the Service. Network delay, video quality, lost connectivity, operator error, and site conditions can cause collisions, tip-overs, and other incidents. You remain solely responsible for ensuring that Teleop is used only by trained operators, that the work area is clear of people and hazards to the extent required by your site rules, and that you stop Teleop immediately if video, controls, or connectivity are unreliable.

To the maximum extent permitted by law, Tarracor Robotics and its affiliates, officers, employees, and suppliers are not liable for any damage to property, damage to the robot or related equipment, or bodily injury arising out of or related to Teleop, including operator error, network or video failure, or software or hardware malfunction during a Teleop session.

4. Autonomous and other operation

The same limitation of liability applies to autonomous and semi-autonomous operation: Tarracor is not responsible for damage to property, damage to the robot, or bodily injury arising from use of TarraBot on your site, except where liability cannot be excluded under applicable law.

5. Your responsibilities

You agree to: (a) follow the User Manual and site safety procedures; (b) keep people clear of the robot path as required; (c) maintain the robot and range; (d) not rely on Teleop or autonomy as a substitute for on-site supervision where your rules or law require it; and (e) ensure only authorized users accept this disclaimer and use Teleop.

6. Indemnity

You will indemnify and hold harmless Tarracor Robotics from claims, losses, and expenses (including reasonable legal fees) arising from your use of TarraBot or Teleop, including claims by third parties for property damage, robot damage, or bodily injury, except to the extent caused by Tarracor's willful misconduct where such exclusion is not permitted by law.

7. Acceptance

By tapping Accept in TarraBot Pro (robot access or Teleop) or otherwise using the robot or Teleop, you confirm that you have read and agree to this Liability Disclaimer and the License Agreement.
